AND TO: Any booking agents or product resellers, including the Kimberley Raft and Fly shop, its board of directors, officers, employees, contractors and/or representatives;

Definitions in this agreement:

- a) The term "rafting" shall include river kayaking, river canoeing, inflatable river kayaking, sportyaking, whitewater rafting and float trips.
- b) The term "whitewater rafting" shall include all services and use of facilities either provided by or arranged by KRC or in any way related to whitewater rafting, but not limited to: reservations, orientation and instruction sessions; transportation or travel to and from our designated trip pick up meeting area to any river access; travel via private property to gain river access; accommodation and recreational activities in addition to rafting; all rafting and river activities in the river environment including walking on shore, cliff jumping and river swimming.

Section A: Acknowledgement of risks, rafting hazards, wilderness travel, weather etc;

I understand that whitewater rafting involves inherent risks, dangers and hazards. Rivers are dynamic environments which are subject to continual change. I acknowledge that KRC and its staff may be negligent in avoiding scenarios which may subject the rafter to ejection from the raft, separation from the raft, overturning of the raft, and broaching or wrapping of the raft on rocks or wood hazards. The river environment is uncontrolled and involves many risks in addition to white-water rafting. These risks may include but are not limited to; sweepers (trees hanging over the surface of the water), strainers (trees suspended in the water), rocks both on shore and in the water, hydraulics, steep embankments and portage trails, wild and or domestic animal encounters. I realize that communication in the river environment is difficult, and in the event of an accident, rescue and medical treatment may not be available. Travel by logging or private roads to river access can be hazardous.

By signing this document, I am aware and fully acknowledge these risks, dangers and hazards; and I freely accept and fully assume all such risks and the possibility of personal injury, death, property damage or loss resulting there from. I am also aware that the Kimberley Golf course can in no way be held responsible for any and all river activities arising from allowing me to access the St Mary's river via its property.
